Colonel White asked him if he thought the city should not build bridges and reservoirs. Colonel White sked him if he thought the city ought to make contracts for her improvements. Mr. Sweeney said the city ought to make contracts for her improvements. Mr. Sweeney said the city had an opportunity to put up an electric plant before, but did not and the company was organized with the understanding that it would not. The bill was a question of killing an individual raterprise and would tend to retard Wheeling's progress more than anything that could be done.

He asked why people should not make their own contracts in stead of asking the county.

ry spirit smouldering throughout Spain early burst into flame in this city tolay. There was a peaceful demonstraion, in which a parade and speech s were the main features, going on in favor of the Republican leader, Don Nicolas Simon Alionso, Zorilla's co-worker in teaching Republican ideas; and nain teaching Republican idess; and naturally the crowds which were attracted by the procession became somewhat excited. This attitude of the populoes seems to have alarmed the officer of a troop of mounted gens d'armes, who had been detailed to maintain order, and in case of such emergency arising, to suppress any revolutionary proceedings. The officer lost his head and ordered the gens d'darmes to charge the crowd. The officer lost his head and ordered the gens d'darmes to charge the crowd. They did so at a gallop, firing their pistols and carbines right and left. Severaral persons were dangerously wounded, and bullets from the gens d'armes weapons were flittened around the balcony and window of the hotel from the gens d'armes tion of the gens d'arme deeply enraged the people, but the crowd dispersed without retaliation.

The government will be asked to order an inquiry into the conduct of the officer in charge of the gens d'armes, salmon's friends claim that the gens d'armes tried to shoot him.
